

CALIQUA SA

MISSION STATEMENT

We are our customers' preferred partner for the engineering and servicing of thermal plants. We implement power stations, thermal power stations and district heating systems for industry, energy providers and waste management companies. We provide and plan a range of services for all types of thermal systems.

We create added value

We implement systems and provide services that are of optimal benefit to our clients and that contribute to their success. We innovate, we act quickly and we keep our goals in mind.

We strive to be the best

We do what it takes to understand our clients' needs. We are skilled and are always developing. We come up with ideas as a team and we successfully put these into practice. We set ourselves ambitious objectives, which we pursue with fervour.

We are a team

We work together and help one another so that we can accomplish our tasks. We make the most of our colleagues' strengths while giving them the entrepreneurial freedom they need to thrive. We are a committed team and we perform at the highest level. We focus on and work towards our objectives while communicating in an open, direct, swift and clear manner.

We are united by our common values Respect, integrity, a sense of responsibility, trust and commitment. We embrace these values, and they characterise our mutual relationships. We are always learning and we adapt to change. We embrace our responsibilities towards our clients and our staff, towards our shareholders, suppliers and partners, and towards society and the environment.

We shape our own future

We aim to emphasise sustainable profit and we offer jobs that are interesting and challenging. We have exemplary resources that enable us to encourage and support our colleagues in their personal development within the company and to maintain our own freedom to implement projects and take action.
